Dear Parents / Carers,

We would like to remind you about your child's safety online. As you are aware, it is a very important matter to help your children to be safe when using online websites and apps.

DANGER!

On a recent training course, we found out that lots of children are refusing to tell their adults at home about something that has worried or upset them online. This is because they are scared that their technology might be taken away from them! To stop this happening, we have come up with some TOP TIPS to follow if your child is brave enough to come to you to let you know about an incident that happens online.

TOP TIPS:

1. Say thank you if your child reports any inappropriate content or worries. Praise them for being open and honest and tell them that this makes you trust them even more!
2. Explore the issue with them and perhaps even help them to report it. Talk about ways to be even safer online.
3. Make sure your child is going on age appropriate games and apps.
